OCTOBER
HALF TERM!

Half-Term Dates

Monday 26th October — Friday 29th October 2021

OCTOBER
HALF TERM!

Imari Inclusion Dress-Up Day

On the last day of term – Friday 22nd October following suggestions from the house captains we will have an ‘Imari Inclusion’ dress-up day for children and staff in years 1 - 6.

This will also coincide with our announcement of the Inclusion Ambassadors in assembly.

We can't wait to see the creative interpretations of Imari's look.

Early years Learning Dinosaur Dress-Up Day

On the last week of half term we are having a dinosaur week in the early years (nursery and reception).

On Friday 22nd October – we will have an ‘learning dinosaur’ dress-up day for children and staff at the school.

We ask that your child comes to school dressed in the colour of a dinosaur of their choice.

Here are our learning dinosaurs for you to choose from.

Remote Education Expectations

For children who are isolating with Coronavirus (or Coronavirus symptoms) but feel well, please remember that they must complete remote education online using the resources available via

The Oak National Academy, which caters for all primary pupils including those in the early years and with special needs.

The Oak National Academy provides a bank of around 10,000 free, high-quality lessons and resources combining videos, quizzes and worksheets.

Further guidance can be found at

<https://www.lancasterianprimary.co.uk/remote-education-children-working-from-home>

If your child requires a device to complete this work then please let the school know and we will provide one.

Revisiting the Values Families

This week it's your chance to re-connect with the High Aspirations Family...

Hetty's Mum — The High Aspirations Family

Hetty's Mum — The High Aspirations Family

Hetty lives with her mum and she brings Hetty to Lancasterian Primary School because she wants her to aim high in all she does.

She is ambitious about the glittering goals that Hetty can achieve in her future. She always encourages Hetty to do her best and celebrates her golden successes with her. They are a great team!

She's interested in how well Hetty is achieving at school. She knows that whilst Hetty excels in some areas, she can sometimes find others difficult and that's okay. She plays an active role in her daughter's learning and asks the Lancasterian staff how she can support Hetty in areas where she is struggling. They can then work on these areas together at home and help power up Hetty's rocket boots so she can fly further. With her mum's help, Hetty can reset her rudder-like tail to stay focused on her learning goals.

Hetty's mum ensures that Hetty knows that cheating or taking unfair short cuts is never the answer. She holds her 'No short cuts' twig high to remind her as Hetty perseveres and practices.

Hetty's mum always remembers to share her praise balloon when Hetty seeks her own solution to the problems she faces. She challenges her when she asks others to do the hard work for her. No short cuts Hetty!
